

Architectural Designer (Internship)

Requesting preference of studio and preferred Summer 2025 & 2026 availability:

Commercial, Commercial Interiors, Multifamily, Single Family

As a member of our team, your role in projects will range from schematic design through construction phase services. Working with a variety of Project Managers/Designers, your day-to-day work will touch every phase on a variety of different projects, including: surveying and existing conditions documentation, programming client needs, conceptual design, schematic design, space planning, design development, selecting material finishes, construction documentation, and preparing presentations to our clients. Our internships provide only AXP or NCIDQ related hours, where your efforts will have direct impact on our projects – all while producing extraordinary, collaborative designs.

There is also room to grow in all phases, we love hearing about the type of projects and type of project experience that you are seeking. There is no limit on opportunities to contribute to the thriving community at GTM Architects – from affecting our input-driven work culture to impacting designs & project deliverables for our clients. Ideal candidates will be able to flourish in our collaborative, client-driven environment, and be able to work on a range of projects from corporate interiors to retail & restaurant and much more.
